EDUCATION

- PhD Psycholinguistics and SLA, 2020. University of Southampton (UK)
Dissertation: Native and Non-Native Processing of Structural Ambiguities. Roumyana Slabakova, Chair.
- MA Second Language Studies, Department of Second Language Studies, 2017. Indiana University, Bloomington (USA).
- PhD English Literature, 2011. Linguistics University of Nizhny Novgorod (Russia)
Dissertation: Psalms in Paradise Lost by John Milton: Synthesis of the Antique and the Christian (in Russian). Zoya I. Kirnoze, Chair.
- MA Linguistics, Language Pedagogy and Intercultural Communication, Department of English Language, 2002. Linguistics University of Nizhny Novgorod (Russia)
- BA Developmental Psychology and Preschool Education, 1994. Teacher Training University of Yaroslavl (Russia)

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT

- 2023-2024 Postdoctoral Research Fellow: MSCA fellowship, NTNU, Trondheim, Norway
- 2022-2023 Artificial Intelligence: Machine Learning Data Linguist, Division Lex, Amazon Development Center Inc. (USA)
- 2021 Data Linguist (online), Lex-Lionbridge via Telus International, Amazon (USA)
- 2020–now Instructor in ESL (online), Universitat Oberta de Catalunya (Spain)
- 2017–now English-Second-Language Instructor, the Joffrey Academy of Dance, The Joffrey Ballet, Chicago (USA)
- 2021 (Fall) Visiting Associate Professor, Minin University, Nizhny Novgorod (Russia)
- 2019 (Fall) Visiting Associate Professor, Minin University, Nizhny Novgorod (Russia)
- 2018 Invited Lecturer, Academic Summer Programme, Rybinsk (Russia)
- 2015–2017 Associate Instructor of Russian, Indiana University, Bloomington (USA)
- 2011–2014 Associate Professor of English Language and Literature, Nizhny Novgorod Linguistics University (Russia)
- 2002–2011 Assistant Professor of English Language and Literature, Nizhny Novgorod Linguistics University (Russia)
- 1994–2002 Instructor in ESL (young learners), English Language Company “Lingua-Service,” Rybinsk (Russia)

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Current research interests: language processing, parsing algorithms in native and non-native processing, processing for comprehension and production, code-switching, bilingualism and multilingualism, second and third language acquisition, multilingual identity.

Previous research interests: linguistic theory and literary text analysis, literary theory, genre and its linguistic features: theory of literary texts.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

2020–now	Affiliated Researcher, Bilingualism Research Lab, UIC (USA)
2020 (spring)	Guest Researcher, Center for Linguistics, Leiden University (Netherlands)
2017–2019	Guest Researcher, Bilingualism and Psycholinguistics Research Group, Northwestern University (USA)
2014 (summer)	Volunteer Research Assistant to Dr. Cabrelli, Multilingual Phonology Laboratory, UIC. Chicago (USA)

GRANTS, HONORS AND AWARDS

2022	Awarded (starting date 15.08.2023): Foundation for Science and Technology: Call to Scientific Employment Stimulus. Lisbon, Portugal
2021	Horizon 2021 – European Commission: Marie Skłodowska-Curie Individual Fellowships (H2020-MSCA-IF-2021)
2018	Conference travel award. University of Southampton, UK.
2018	Summer Research Award. University of Southampton, UK.
2018	Summer School travel award. Technical University of Braunschweig, Germany.
2017	Vice-Chancellor award for Post-Graduate Research. University of Southampton, UK.
2017	REEI conference travel award. Indiana University Bloomington, USA.
2015-2017	Associate Instructorship. Department of Slavic and East European Languages and Cultures. Indiana University Bloomington, USA.
2013–2014	Research Grant of Ministry of Education and Science of the Russian Federation. Project №1321 “Modern Religious Discourse: Structure and Strategies of Development”.
2012–2013	Research Grant of Ministry of Education and Science of the Russian Federation. Project № 6.8444.2013 “Religious sphere of communication: Discourse Specificities, Genres and Types of Texts”.

MANUSCRIPTS

Sokolova, M. Submitted. Same means different: Parsing mechanisms in trilingual processing, Armenian-Russian-English trilinguals. An experimental study comparing the impact of syntactic and lexical semantic information on the sentence processing in L1, L2 and L3. It demonstrates that non-structural information is considered at all stages of sentence processing. However, if syntactic and non-syntactic information prompt different parsing solutions, the human parser follows a syntactic clue in either L1, L2 or L3.

Sokolova, M., Levandovsky, M., Korshunov, D and A. Sahakian. Abstract accepted. Is Language Faculty immune to socio-political reality: Two cases of bilingualism with Russian. In Handbook of Second language Acquisition and Language Contact, edited by Sanchez, L and E. Mayer. Routledge. The chapter demonstrates that even though the human mind has a potential to integrate (acquire) as many languages as possible, it cannot grasp and maintain a language that is not actively in use. Therefore, socio-political reality constrains the availability of a given language and influences bilingual competence.

Sokolova, M and R. Slabakova. In preparation. Directionality of parsing operations in processing syntactic ambiguities. The paper demonstrates how top-down and bottom-up parsing strategies complement each other in monolingual processing of ambiguous relative clauses with an anaphoric element at the end.

Sokolova, M and R. Slabakova In preparation. Non-native sentence parsing: top-down or bottom-up. A study of parsing strategies in non-native English and Russian demonstrating that L2 processing implements both top-down and bottom-up algorithms. At the intermediate level of proficiency L2ers show sensitivity to the parsing prompts not instantiated in their L1s.

Levandowsky, M and M. Sokolova. In preparation. Same means different: Parsing mechanisms in trilingual processing, Tatar-Russian-English. Replication of Sokolova M. (submitted) with trilingual speakers, whose L1 does not allow structural ambiguity of relative clauses.

RESEARCH SUPERVISION

- 2022-now Psycholinguistic, social, and political aspects of multilingual identity. Interdisciplinary research project with Prof. Armen Sahakian (Armenia), Dr. Dmitry Korshunov (Russia), Michael Levandovsky (Tatarstan).
- 2022-now Same means different: Parsing mechanisms in trilingual processing, Tatar-Russian-English. Individual project by M. Levandovsky, BA student, Nizhny Novgorod Linguistics University, Russia.
- 2018 (summer) Psycholinguistics Lab. Young Researchers. Group Research Project at Summer Lyceum, summer school for advanced high schoolers, Rybinsk, Russia <http://msokolopez.com/category/psycholinguisticslab/>

TECHING EXPERIENCE

THESIS SUPERVISION

- 2023 BA thesis (in person): Factors that affect L2 acquisition of English by native speakers of Norwegian (TBD). Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Trondheim, Norway.
- 2021-2022 BA thesis (remote): Psycholinguistic implications of structural ambiguity of English restrictive relative clauses. Nizhny Novgorod Linguistics University, Nizhny Novgorod, Russia.
- 2021 MA thesis (6 students, remote): Computer-mediated Language Teaching and Learning. Unoversitat Oberta de Catalunya, Barcelona, Spain.

LECTURE COURSES

- 2019-2021 Linguistic Approaches to Second Language Acquisition: Pedagogical Implications. Online lecture course, Minin University, Nizhny Novgorod, Russia. Topics covered: Variability in acquisition of phonology / morphology / syntax in instructed SLA by classroom L2 learners, balanced bilinguals and heritage speakers; I-language: integrated grammar or several individual grammars; students' experiments.
- 2020 (Spring) Generative Linguistics. Online lecture course at Minin University, Nizhny Novgorod, Russia. Topics covered: History of ideas, main theoretical assumptions, implications for studies in human language processing.
- 2019 (Summer) Generative Approaches to Language Acquisition (online). Joint lecture course "Cognitive Linguistics" at Technical University of Braunschweig, Germany. Topics covered: Monolinguals, bilinguals, multilinguals and heritage speakers in the same classroom; Second language phonology; Linguistic mechanism of code-switching; Social aspects of second language learning; Language and thought.
- 2018 (Summer) Introduction to Psycholinguistics: What can we learn about the human brain knowing the structure of the linguistics system? Lecture course and research supervision in an academic summer program, Rybinsk, Russia. Topics covered: Linguistic approaches to cognitive studies: phonology, morphology, lexicon and syntax.
- 2018 (March) Mechanisms of Second Language Acquisition (online). Joint lecture course at Minin University, Nizhny Novgorod, Russia. Topics covered: psycholinguistic approaches to the development of native and non-native grammars; code-switching.

SEMINARS

- 2018 Classroom Language Learning and Bilingualism: Are we bilingual if we learn a language in the classroom? Summer School, Braunschweig, Germany.
